Animal Care and Welfare Manager Apprenticeship Standard

Apprenticeship

DUCHY COLLEGE

Animal care and welfare managers work in a wide range of settings within the animal care sector and may typically be employed by animal charities, pet care services, pet retailers, entertainment and education.

This course not only covers the day to day practical care, welfare and behaviour requirements of animals, but also ensures that candidates can learn how to manage animal collections and the day to day running of businesses. They will be able to comply with UK legislation and plan and resource events in a professional, safe and responsible way. The course supports students who want to gain supervisory and mentoring skills and prepares them for working in the animal management industry.
