

An introduction to dog training

Leisure and Professional

This course is designed to provide knowledge about suitable training techniques for dog owners or those who simply wish to learn about training dogs.

Understanding how dogs think, learn and act is integral to good training. This course will provide you with a grounding in basic training, exploring how dogs communicate to enable better trained dogs.

Furthering your training knowledge will ensure that dogs are better trained and therefore happier and ultimately improving human-dog relationships.

Often issues are founded in miscommunication, this course will aid you in recognising where such issues may arise and how you might prevent them.

Please note: this course is a theoretical course covering dog behaviour and will not require you to bring your dogs along on the day

This course will run from 09:00-16:00

Please note: this course is for applicants aged 19+ only
